Panel discussion by local real estate legends highlights Sept. 19
CALV Symposium for local real estate pros

A luncheon featuring what figures to be a lively panel discussion by local real estate legends will highlight a commercial real estate symposium being presented Sept. 19 by the Commercial Alliance Las Vegas (CALV).

CALV is hosting its ninth annual Commercial Alliance Educational Symposium from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 19, at the Gold Coast hotel-casino for commercial real estate professionals in Nevada and neighboring states.

In addition to educational sessions where real estate professionals can earn continuing education credits to help them maintain their real estate licenses, members of the media and the public are invited to attend the annual luncheon and panel discussion.

The theme for the panel discussion focusing on how the local real estate industry has evolved over the decades is “Las Vegas Real Estate Legends: When Cocktail Napkins Were Contracts.” Scheduled panelists include longtime Las Vegas real estate professionals and developers John Midby and Ed Nigro.

Panelists will take questions from the audience and from moderator Geoff Schumacher, a former newspaper publisher and author of books about Las Vegas and its history who now works as director of content development at the Mob Museum in downtown Las Vegas.

In addition to the luncheon, nationally known commercial real estate speakers and instructors Dr. Mark Dotzour, Todd Kuhlmann, CCIM, and Soozie Jones Walker, CCIM and SIOR, will conduct courses during the symposium. Real estate professionals can earn up to six hours of continuing education credits by attending morning and afternoon classes. Participants will also be treated to a continental breakfast.

On-site registration begins at 7:30 a.m. Participants can register in advance or at the event. All-day admission is $99 for CALV and GLVAR members, or $149 for others.
